REFINED DESIGN, EXCEPTIONAL PERFORMANCE

Crafted with precision, the Contemporary Collection strikes the perfect balance between style and substance.

Every visual aspect has been meticulously considered, from the ultra-slim sightlines to guarantee an abundance of natural light, through to the stunning hardware we have curated.

The true magic of the Collection lies in the innovation and engineering you can't see. Precision-crafted from premium-grade aluminium, its hidden technology enables large maximum sizes, exceptional thermal efficiency, unparalleled security, and an effortless operation.

A close-up, diagonal shot of a dark-colored door handle and lock mechanism. The handle is a sleek, horizontal metal bar. Below it is a circular lock cylinder with a keyhole. The background is a soft, out-of-focus blue gradient.

SECURITY AND SAFETY AT ITS CORE

Security is paramount, and the products within the Contemporary Collection meet and exceed all industry standards, including PAS 24. Some even go above and beyond this by achieving the police-backed Secured by Design accreditation.

Innovative safety features can be seen throughout the Collection for your peace of mind. For example, on the External Door, these have family-centric features, including finger-safe gaskets and magnetic catches, as well as optional low thresholds and opening restrictors.

SUPERIOR THERMAL EFFICIENCY

Engineered for today's energy-conscious world, the Contemporary Collection offers outstanding thermal performance. With U-Values as low as $0.78 \text{ W/m}^2\text{K}$, the products surpass British Building Regulations and enhance comfort while reducing energy costs.

THE EXTERNAL DOOR

Every element of the External Door is designed for a seamless integration into any home.

Made bespoke in premium-grade aluminium and available in three sightline options - 36mm, 49mm and 72mm - it combines style with unmatched performance.

Doors concertina and stack onto one another, and because of our specially designed running gear, all it takes is a simple push and your inside and outside worlds are connected like never before.

THE SLIDING DOOR

Blurring the boundaries between inside and out, the Sliding Door is designed to welcome maximum light, uninterrupted views, and a smooth and effortless operation. With slim sightlines and expansive glass panels, it creates a bright, open environment while delivering outstanding thermal efficiency.

Tailored to your space, you're able to choose from one of three sightlines - 77mm, 44mm, or the new 29mm. The ultra-slim 29mm option has been engineered with an enhanced design, flush stacking option and an industry-leading thermal performance.

THE WINDOW

So you're able to frame each view with effortless elegance, two window systems are available within the Contemporary Collection.

Firstly, there's the Slimline Window. With an emphasis on maximising natural light, its sightlines are just 65mm. However, to push the design boundaries, the Premium Window is also available. This features a timeless internal and external flush casement, and is able to be manufactured in vast maximum sizes.

Built for longevity, both windows enhance your space whilst offering unmatched style and performance.

At Origin, we don't just follow industry standards, but instead, set our own. This allows us to take our product's quality to new levels, ensuring it meets the needs of your family today, tomorrow and for decades to come. One example of this is the design and implementation of our very own powder-coating facility in Bicester. Its operations are designed specifically to elevate both the colour and finish, resulting in superior longevity, aesthetics and durability.

The average number of pre-treatment cleaning stages is between 5-7, however, in our facility, our profile goes through 10-stages. This means the surface is far more primed and receptive to being powder-coated which results in a more flawless finish overall.

With over 150 different RAL colours to choose from, with the addition of textured and dual-coloured options, we have the perfect colour to complement your project.

HARDWARE

CURATED TO MAKE A STATEMENT

Holistically designed, the handles across the Contemporary Collection are crafted to work in harmony with each other, whilst standing out as a statement piece in their own right.

As the most tactile part of any door and window, we have ensured that this vital touchpoint exudes quality and excellence every time it's engaged with.

At Origin, aluminium isn't just a material - it's a commitment. While others may compromise with lower standards in material and grade, we only ever use premium aluminium because of its unrivalled combination of strength, weight and longevity.

It's this superior quality that allows us to craft ultra-slim profiles that are capable of supporting expansive panes of glass, delivering outstanding thermal efficiency, and ensuring a smooth and consistent operation.

Plus, it gives us the confidence to offer industry-leading guarantees.

Beyond performance, we take pride in doing things the right way. That means responsible sourcing, ethical practices, and sustainable manufacturing - and this is backed by our ISO 14001 certification. When you choose Origin, you're choosing precision engineering, long-term value, and peace of mind.

DESIGNED, DEVELOPED AND DELIVERED DIFFERENTLY

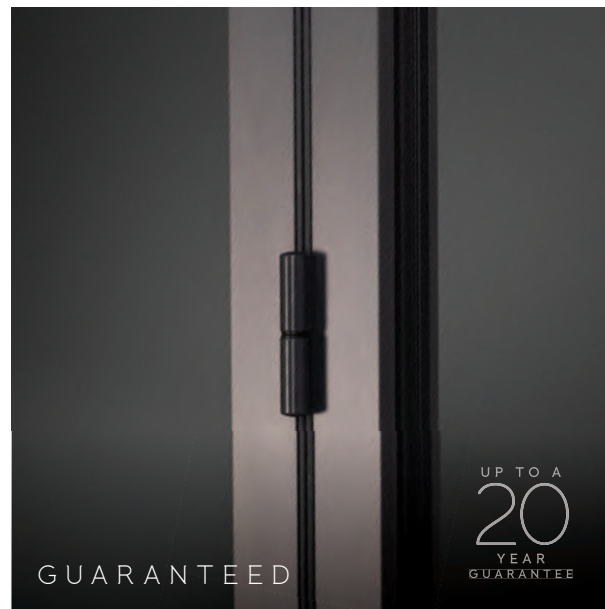

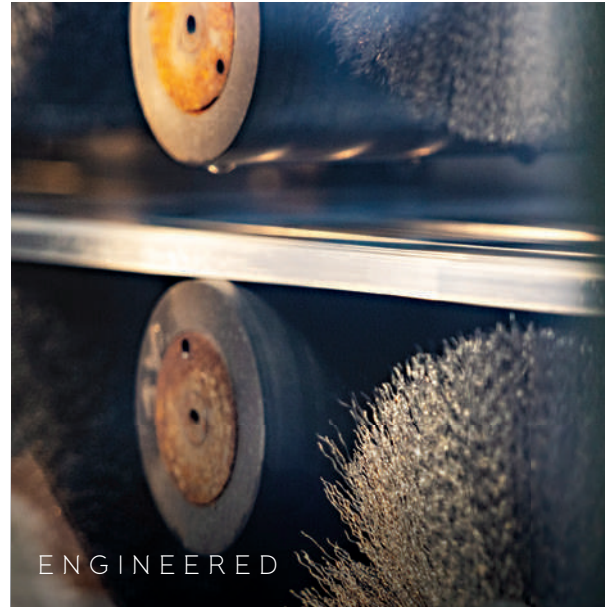

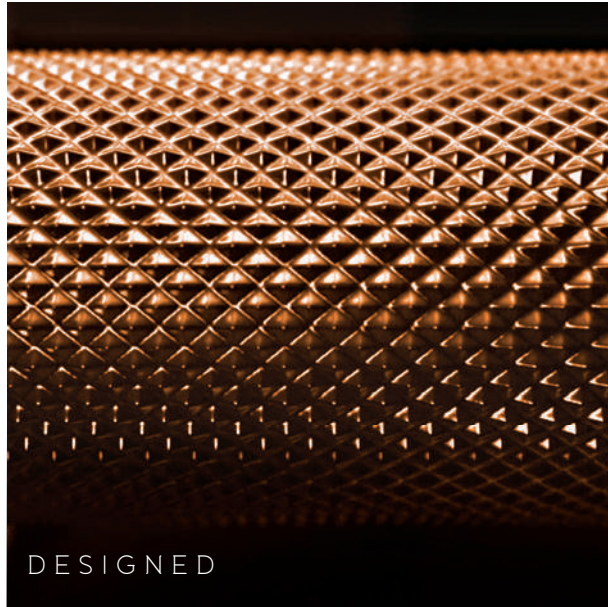

Everything we do at Origin is underpinned by a belief in doing things better – a mindset established by cousins Neil Ginger and Victoria Brocklesby when they founded the company in 2002. What began as a family business with a focus on crafting the UK's best quality bi-folding doors has grown into an internationally recognised brand, known for precision engineering and industry-leading innovations.

To this day, Neil and Victoria remain closely involved in the business, driving continuous improvement and upholding the high standards Origin is known for. No detail is ever overlooked, which cumulatively comes together to create the Origin difference.

By designing, developing and manufacturing everything in-house here in the UK, we retain complete control – ensuring every product is built with consistency, care and pride.
