Our Stormproof range has a varied selection of door designs that will suit any property, regardless of the age or style. Our white-wood effect outerframe with timber-style joints ensures that all doors supplied by The English Door deliver a seamless fit and perform to your highest expectations.

Each aspect of your door has been assessed by design experts for quality and authenticity. We have gathered together a collection of designs that emulate classic and modern styles. You will find an abundance of features with selected designs showcasing our exquisite arised detailing. All of our doors feature larger glazed areas than other modern doors.

To ensure your peace of mind, all doors in the range are highly secure. Each door is fitted with a multi-point locking system, the latest locks and hinges and secure glazing panels to make sure that any unwanted visitors are kept out of your home. The door also offers excellent sound proofing as well as highly efficient thermal insulation.

The sturdy threshold that we fit is made from aluminium makes it extremely durable and less susceptible to damage and marking. Just like our doors, it only needs an infrequent wipe down to maintain its good looks for a long time to come.

An extensive range of Stormproof rear and side doors covers all eventualities

These doors are highly important to any home as they still need to keep intruders out and keep warmth in, as well as look attractive. Low maintenance is even more important for these doors as often they are used more frequently in everyday life. Being able to keep them clean with a simple wipe of a damp cloth is really important. The doors are extremely durable and will retain their good looks for many years without the need for painting or other maintenance, despite enduring the knocks of day to day living.

Painted & Traditional Timber Effect Windows & Doors

All of our coloured timber effect windows and doors feature an authentic timber effect foil as standard. Every face of the window and ancillaries will incorporate this traditional wood finish to ensure Evolution windows and English Doors look as close to timber as possible. Our standard internal colour is white woodgrain. This beautiful combination ensures that the internal face is neutral and will compliment any interior design styles, however should you wish to have both sides of your handcrafted product featuring a timber or painted colour finish, this can be created for you.

In addition to our collection of classical timber finishes, we can also paint your door to one of over 200 RAL colours using our in-house colouring facility. All of our custom painted doors still have the authentic wood grain detail to them to maintain the look and feel of real wood.

Ask your retail partner to show you a RAL colour swatch and make your own personal choice of colour to match your requirements - anything is possible!
